The remainder of the regiment will sail next week. Three privates have died in the military hospital since the last advices.

She was bound from Port Blakely to South Africa, with 1,000,000 feet of lumber. Captain McDonald's boat with the wife of the first mate and nine of the crew and three babies landed at Hoonaka November 26. Two boat loads of the crew are missing.

THAT RAILROAD BOYCOTT.

Rock Island Road Follows the Santa Fe's Action Against the Great Western—Irregularities in Freight Rates the Cause.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The Rock Island road has formally announced that it will cease all interchange of business with the Chicago & Great Western. This is in line with the Santa Fe action. The trouble between the Great Western and competitors arises chiefly out of freight matters.

AN INSIGNIFICANT AFFAIR. President Stickney, of the Chicago & Great Western railroad, has pronounced the boycotting of his road as an "insignificant affair." It is generally supposed that the course of the Santa Fe's dissatisfaction was irregularities of rates, the blame for which the Great Western refuses to shoulder.

TOO MUCH MONEY.

Because of Abnormally Large Deposits and a Lack of Safe Investments Interest Rates on Deposits Have Been Reduced.

New York, Nov. 6.—The trustees of the Bowers Savings bank will reduce the rate of interest paid on savings deposits from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent. This action is made necessary by a plethora of money and a scarcity of safe investments. It is probable that nearly all the savings banks in the borough of Manhattan will lower the rate.

Disastrous Ammonia Explosion.

New York, Dec. 6.—An explosion of ammonia on the marine hospital ship Bay State, lying in the slip on the Brooklyn side of the upper bay, killed Robert Twiss and seriously injured 15 men. The accident occurred in the ice making plant.

At the quartermaster's office in this city all that was known of the accident was the following report received by telephone: "While putting stores in the ice box of the Bay State's ammonia tanks, the refrigerator exploded, wounding seven or eight laborers. One man was not rescued until 20 minutes after the explosion. He was found dead."

Royalty Dies Like Rest of Mankind. Stuttgart, Dec. 6.—The princess Frederick, mother of William II, king of Wurtemberg, is dead.

INTERESTING COIN CASE.

Mortgagee Refuses 364 Silver Dollars of Mortgagee Alleging Silver Worth But 58 1/8 Cents—Decision Favors Silver.

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 6.—Judge Smith has rendered a decision in the case of Stephen A. Baldwin vs. Fred A. Baker, in favor of the former. In payment of a mortgage upon his farm, Baldwin tendered Baker 364 silver dollars, which the latter refused to accept, and at once began steps to foreclose. Baldwin filed a bill in chancery, asking the mortgage be discharged, inasmuch as he had tendered payment. Baker filed a lengthy answer, arguing he was not being paid the full value of the mortgage as but 58 1/8 cents. Judge Smith's decision was that the tender of silver in payment of the mortgage was good, and accordingly ordered the mortgage discharged as paid. The case will be appealed to the supreme court of Michigan and will go to the United States supreme court.

Victorious Street Railroad Strike.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 6.—The strike at Dallas of the Consolidated Street Railway was amicably settled and officially declared off today. The men will be taken back to work and the unforgotten recognized.

Columbus, O., Dec. 6.—The supreme court today handed down a decision in the contempt case filed by the attorney general against the officials of the Standard Oil Company for refusing to produce their books at the recent investigation of alleged violation of orders of the supreme court by the trust. The court orders the books produced, but says nothing about the contempt features.

SPAIN PLAYING FOXY.

She Wants to Know What West Indian Privileges Will Be Accorded Her Ere Granting Certain American Demands.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The joint commission met at 2 p. m. It developed that yesterday's session resulted in the Americans partially rejecting Spain's request that the ships of that country and its products be admitted to Cuban and Puerto Rican ports for a term of years under the same regulations and customs tariff as American ships and products. The Spanish commission has been playing for time. The Americans were anxious for a decision on the proposed coaling station in the Caroling Islands, religious tolerance in the Carolines and the release of political prisoners. The Spaniards were unwilling to answer these points until they heard what the Americans proposed to do for their industries built up by the Cuban and Puerto Rican trade.

Several other persons were injured.

German Emperor Proposes to Push German Trade Into China, But Without Antagonizing the Powers.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The Reichstag opened today. Emperor William said the principal object of his policy would be to contribute to the maintenance of peace. Therefore, he hailed with warm approval the czar's proposal for the furtherance of that object. The emperor said, while respecting the well acquired rights of third parties, the German government would direct its efforts to promote further its economic relations with China.

READY FOR A MEDICINE TALK.

Territorial Indian Nations More Favorably Inclined to Negotiate on the Dawes Commission Basis.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Secretary Bliss has received important dispatches from the Indian territory indicating a change of sentiment on the part of some Indian tribes with whom the Dawes commission had been negotiating treaties. HAWAII'S RULERS

Bill Providing for Government of the New Territory Has Been Sent to Congress.

CAREFULLY DRAWN PAPER

Particular Pains Have Been Taken to Shut Out All Undesirable Citizens from Use of the Elective Franchise.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The president transmitted to congress today the report of the Hawaiian commission, together with the three bills drawn by the committee for the government of the islands as part of the United States. The principal bill outlines the general plan of government; the other two deal with subordinate questions. Of the main bill, the commissioners believe it will prove to be "such a measure for the government of the Hawaiian Islands as will best promote the welfare of the people. At the same time it promotes the interests and maintains the sovereignty of the people of the United States." The bill provides for erecting the islands into a territory of the United States, to be styled the territory of Hawaii. It contains provisions for the government of the territory, including a governor, secretary, United States district judge, United States district attorney and United States marshal. The officers of the territory, under the new regime, are the attorney general, treasurer, superintendent of public works, superintendent of public instruction, auditor, deputy auditor, surveyor and sheriff. Probably the most important part of the bill is the section defining citizenship, which provides that "all white persons, including Portuguese and persons of African descent, all persons descending from the Hawaiian race on either the paternal or maternal side, who were citizens of the republic of Hawaii, immediately prior to transfer of the sovereignty thereof to the United States, are hereby declared citizens of the United States."

Provision is made for a legislature, to consist of two houses, whose members will be elected biennially. The voters for representatives are required to be male citizens, 21 years old, of five years residence in the territory, able to "understandingly speak, read and write the English or Hawaiian language."

To vote for senators, the person must, in addition, own real property worth $1,000. The bill provides for the election of a delegate to congress to possess the same powers and privileges now accorded to other delegates.

The governor is to appoint the chief justice and two associate justices of the supreme court. The governor is to possess veto power, but his veto may be overridden by a two-thirds vote in both houses of the legislature. The existing laws in Hawaii, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or this act, continue in force, subject to repeal or amendment by the legislature of Hawaii or by congress.

The bill also provides that the constitution and laws of the United States locally applicable shall have the same force and effect in the territory of Hawaii as elsewhere in the United States.

New York, December 6.—George McFadden and Larry Becker, light weights, fought at Paterson, N. J., last night. Fifteen hundred people witnessed the exhibition. The referee, in the 15th round, gave the decision to McFadden. Becker received a terrible beating. After the fight his seconds, who worked over him for an hour, failed to arouse him from his stupor, and he may die.

London, Dec. 6.—The afternoon newspapers here express satisfaction with President McKinley's message, with the exception of the allusion to the Nicaragua canal, which to the minds of the editors does not show sufficient appreciation of the British treaty rights.

New York, Dec. 6.—Former Congressman William H. Robertson died last night at Kalonah, N. Y., aged 70. Robertson's appointment as collector of the Port of New York by President Garfield without consultation with the senators of this state caused a split in the Republican party of New York and the resignation of Senators Conkling and Platt.

Cruiser Raleigh Ordered Home.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Secretary Long has cabled Admiral Dewey to send the cruiser Raleigh to the United States. As no vessel will be assigned to relieve the Raleigh, this order indicates that the authorities there consider there is no danger now of trouble with Germany over the Philippines.

Telegraph and Telephone Wires Down. Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 6.—The heavy storm which raged throughout this section for nearly 48 hours has subsided. There has not been such a general prostration of telegraph and telephone wires in years. Owing to the heavy sleet, wet snow and high wind, many poles on all the routes leading west of this city were carried down, and the wires prostrated for long distances. The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. So far as learned no marine casualties occurred.

The Agony Still Keeps Up.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 6.—The storm of Sunday and Monday has been succeeded today by another heavy snow of dryer character than that which recently prostrated telegraphic communication. The wire service of southern Michigan is still in an awful state.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS TODAY.

The president sent in the nomination of Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, to be ambassador to Mexico. Señor Romero, the former Mexican minister, having been raised to the rank of an ambassador, Clayton's promotion followed under an act of congress. The president also sent the senate the appointments made during the recess, including those of Secretary Hay, Assistant Secretary of State Hill, the Hawaiian commission and the Paris commissioners.

The senate passed some small bills. A measure to grant American registry to foreign built ships wrecked in the United States and repaired to three-fourths their value, led to a debate of the navigation laws, and the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE Held a short session today and adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Representatives Northway, of Ohio, and Love, of Mississippi.

End of the Long Lane in Sight.

Paris, Dec. 6.—When the commissioners emerged from the foreign office this evening after a long session, Judge Day president of the American commission, announced that all requests had been settled and the treaty would be signed in three or four days. The work remaining consists largely of drafting into language the conclusions reached.

LIEUTENANT ENOCHS, OF THE 25TH.

That Officer Was in Town Last Night from Fort Wingate En Route to Dulce on Government Business.

Lieutenant Berkeley Enoch, of the 25th infantry, was a guest last night at the Palace from Fort Wingate, and left this morning over the narrow gauge for the Jicarilla subagency, where he will represent the War department in the distribution of clothing to the noble red man. The lieutenant graduated from West Point in the last class whose members were given their diplomas and hurried into the field six weeks before the regular time for graduation. This was a pleasant thing for the entire class, because senior annual examinations were escaped and several men whose low stand might have prevented them from graduation received their diplomas all the same, and graduated like the higher stand men. However, Lieutenant Enoch was a high stand man and was well thought of by his instructors. He was sent to Cuba with the 25th infantry and served through the thick of the fight at El Caney. His command had to subsist on half rations for awhile, but the lieutenant says he and his men managed to scrape through all right. He says the Spaniards had a marked advantage over the American troops in that their system of loading enabled them to load and fire far more rapidly than the Americans. Lieutenant Enoch doubts the 25th infantry being sent to Manila, although the 24th infantry, the other colored infantry regiment, may go.
